

Illutas IT management consulting

Setting IT on the right course

Meeting the IT challenges of today

Businesses are faced with an increasing number of IT challenges:

- The fast growing digitalisation of processes and business models.
- The increasing operational and financial strategic importance of IT.
- The ever more challenging IT landscape, with interlinked applications, platforms and devices.
- The scarce skills to effectively manage and exploit these IT opportunities.

The challenges are difficult: there are many digitalisation options and complex themes such as big data information management, extended IoT networks and information security.

Our Credo

Together with our customers, Illutas solves business problems through better use of information, and delivers these services in efficient, realistic and transparent ways. Our approach is different: we deliver using fast, informed and value-added work-packages that can be acted upon immediately.

The Illutas approach

Illutas uses leading frameworks and methods to deliver value added work-packages which are supported by advanced modelling and analysis tools. Where appropriate, proprietary frameworks, such as the Illutas Digital Ecosystem Accelerator (IDEA), are utilised. Again, our emphasis is on delivering fast, tangible, business-driven results.

Background

Illutas draws on over 25 years of IT management and consulting experience in a wide variety of industries and countries.
